Savage River Watershed Association

Follow-up to November 18th Meeting:
Marcellus Shale – Local, State and Regional Approaches

Thanks to all of you who came to learn more about Marcellus Shale issues. Ninety-four people from throughout Garrett County and the region attended the meeting, including our newly elected County Commissioners. The following is not a record of the meeting but rather information that we hope will be helpful as we consider how our community will prepare to meet the challenges posed by this large-scale industry on our rural quality of life, and the health of our people and environment. Additional updates will be sent as new information becomes available.

Opening Statement by SRWA:

Natural gas is a relatively clean source of fossil fuel energy that appears to have many benefits over coal and oil. However, the technology required to extract this gas uses enormous quantities of water and produces enormous quantities of wastewater that must be properly disposed. Some questions to consider:

- Is Maryland prepared with regulations and staff to monitor drilling activities?
- How will chemically tainted wastewater be treated and where will it be released?
- Who will pay to monitor potential impacts to private wells near lands being drilled to ensure that drinking water for humans and livestock is not being impacted?
- Who will ultimately pay when wells and streams are contaminated?

The quality and quantity of Garrett County waters must be protected. We're here tonight not to stop gas drilling but to learn how we can make sure that this needed energy doesn't come at the price of Garrett County's clean water.
